the GLOBAL VILLAGE

for future leaders of business and industry®

June 27 – August 1, 2015 • Lehigh University • Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, USA

Join a vital, growing, and enthusiastic network of more than 1750 young professionals from around the world!

Would you like to build a global network in five intense weeks? Join over 100 young professionals and experienced college students from Asia, Europe, Africa, Middle East, Latin America, South America, and North America as they gather at the Iacocca Institute, Lehigh University, for a life changing leadership development experience.

Build your leadership and entrepreneurship skills, grow your knowledge of business and industry, and expand your network as you work with people from different cultures, countries and disciplines from around the world. Apply new and innovative principles to real business. Work with an international team on a business consulting project. Solve business issues in real time.

Meet with over 78 high-level, business executives to discuss their experiences and lessons learned. Travel from Bethlehem, PA to Washington, D.C. and to New York City, and spend time visiting companies and learning from top leadership. Sample new cultures and experiences. Carry fresh ideas and skills back to your home country and your workplace. Create an innovative path for success.

Join a network of 1750 young professionals representing 133 countries and territories around the world. Become a knowledgeable, forward-looking leader who demonstrates integrity, is culturally aware, and who believes that hard work and compassion lead to success.
